

This is Poppy the Possum, met her on a recent trip the New Zealand! These animals are mostly nocturnal and are a pest, but not Poppy she was found clinging to her dead mother and has been hand reared and is now a family pet, her favorite treat is eating the buds of the roses.

